Disabling Journal And Volume History Entries

When Volume are added, moved or altered by default TapeTrack adds entries to the journal database and historical records for that volume.

If moves are required, for example moving a Volume from one location to another within your racking, journal records would cause the client to be charged for the move that is not billable. Temporarily turning off the journal and/or historical records can bypass this issue.

Disabling Journal Entries

From:
https://docs.tapetrack.com/ - TapeTrack Documentation

Permanent link:
https://docs.tapetrack.com/technote/journal_history?rev=1737333175

Last update: 2025/01/21 22:07