Troubleshooter: Slotting (Previously Working)

You are at this page of the slotting troubleshooter because your slotting has stopped working and it was previously working.

If this is not the case, and your slotting has not previously been configured then you need to be here instead.

Slotting is usually setup to run automatically via Windows Scheduler or Crond, but sometimes people prefer to run it manually by running a script from the command line or double clicking on a batch file.

Was slotting setup to run automatically?
